Key Facts

Alexander Graham Bell

Alexander Graham Bell made the first telephone, which lets people talk even if they are far away. He wanted to help deaf people because his mother and wife couldn't hear. His invention changed how people talk to each other around the world.

Wright Brothers

The Wright Brothers, Orville and Wilbur, made the first aeroplane that could fly. They worked very hard to figure out how to make it work. Their invention means people can now travel in the sky to faraway places.

Marie Curie

Marie Curie was a scientist who found two new materials called radium and polonium. These materials were very useful, especially for helping doctors. She was the first woman to win a big prize for her work, and she won it twice!

What is an inventor?

Inventors are people who come up with new ideas and make new things.

The new things that they make are made to help us with the way we live our lives.

Things like computers, phones, and cars have did not exist until an inventor decided to put different pieces together to make them.
